WORKS BOARD CONSIDERS
STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Resurfacing of Virginia Avenue and Paving of East Michigan Street.

Among the large number of street improvements considered at yesterday's meeting of the Board of Public Works were the resurfacing of Virginia avenue and the paving of East Michigan street from Pogue's run to Tacoma avenue with block.

Residents of the former thoroughfare protested against the improvement, on the plea that the cost should be borne by the city, along the line of an old contention now in the courts. The board took final action and notice of a remonstrance was given.

Since the Pogue's run flood the residents of East Michigan street are opposed to block paving, fearing a repetition of the flood experience. When the improvement came before the board yesterday a petition was filed asking that the block pavement be changed to brick. The matter was referred to the engineer.

Other residents of East Michigan street asked for better service on the East Michigan-street car line, recommending that it be separated entirely from the stockyard line, running only to the Union Station.

ENGLISH AND BOERS
PASS THROUGH CITY

Large Party on the Way to St. Louis to Attend World's Fair.

The halo of war hovered about Union Station yesterday morning, when 200 Boer soldiers and officers, 120 British soldiers and officers and twenty Zulus, Kafirs and Zambas, besides about fifty of the women and children of the Boers, passed through here over the Big Four on their way to the St. Louis exposition. Two trains, consisting of twenty day coaches and one Pullman car, brought them on from the East. Gen. Piet Cronje was of the party.

The party made the best of their short stop here and were very interested in the city, especially the Boers. These people love America, and their superior officer, Commandant Van Dorn, said:

"Many of my men like this country so well that they will never return to their native land. The reason for this is because the United States accords so with what they think a country should be, and this government reaches nearer the perfection of government they have set as their ideal."

NEIGHBORS CONTEST
OVER AN IMPROVEMENT

The question as to whether or not an alley should be graveled by the Board of Public Works caused a controversy between neighbors at the board's meeting yesterday, the Rev. M. H. Lawson, pastor of the Olive-street Presbyterian Church, which is interested, and Mesdames Rose A. Gray, Elizabeth Steinhagen and Mary Matthews opposing the improvement, and William Hurd favoring it. The alley is the first north of Cottage avenue, between the first and second alleys east of Olive street. Those opposing its graveling claimed that it would raise the grade of the alley that it would flood neighboring cellars. Hurd started an animated dispute by claiming that wash water which one of the women threw into the alley ran into his yard. The board took final action, and the opposition immediately filed remonstrance.

Rate Not Settled.
The matter of a one-cent-a-mile rate to the G. A. R. State encampment at Warsaw has not been settled as was announced recently. The Central Passenger Association, in a conference at Chicago Wednesday, will consider the question. If the above rate is not granted, a rate of one fare plus twenty-five cents for the round trip will be established.

HE THREATENED TO SHOOT BUT HIS NERVE FAILED

Ostendorf's Bartender Looked Stephen Loveless Straight in the Eye.

LATTER IS ARRESTED

Stephen Loveless thought he was in a Western town yesterday afternoon when he tried to "clean out" Ostendorf's saloon with a revolver. Loveless had been told to leave the place, and as he was leaving he turned and spat in Henry Ostendorf's face twice. Ostendorf then proceeded to throw Loveless into the street. Loveless soon returned with a revolver and threatened to shoot everybody. Persons in the room all ran except the two bartenders. One of them, when Loveless told him he was going to shoot, looked Loveless square in the face and the "bad man" lost his nerve. He pointed the gun at the other bartender, who immediately found a safer place under the bar.

By this time the police had been notified, but by the time Bicyclemen Love and Bernauer arrived Loveless was gone. They traced him to a room over the saloon of Dan Smith. He was arrested and taken to the police station, where he was charged with being drunk and drawing deadly weapons. Loveless lives at 228 West Michigan street and is employed at the Board of Trade.

IS HARD TO AVOID
CONFUSION OF NAMES

Due to the large number of oil and gas companies recently incorporated by the secretary of state, requests have come to his office asking if there were a rule to submit several names of the company which it is desired to incorporate, to safeguard a repetition. No such ruling has ever been established at the office, but frequently the incorporation of several names, conditions, have submitted several names.

Deputy Secretary of State Frank I. Grubbe, in discussing the matter yesterday said: "A better plan than either would be for the intending incorporators to inform this office of the intended name prior to incorporation, thus saving much trouble on their part in case of a substitution being necessary."

NEWSPAPER MEN AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

Word has been sent to A. C. Alexander, assistant secretary of the Indiana World's Fair Commission, that 2 o'clock on the afternoon of May 18 is the time decided upon for the reception of Indiana newspaper men at the Indiana World's Fair. The reception will be given under the auspices of the World's Press Parliament, which body will be in session at the Indiana World's Fair. It is expected that the largest body of newspaper men in the history of the organization.

Escapes From Central Hospital.

William Baird, an inmate of the Central Insane Hospital, escaped from that institution yesterday morning. Baird had been sent to the hospital to do some work, and when the attendant's back was turned made his escape. A number of bicycles were procured and were made to catch him, but they were not successful. The police were notified to watch out for him. Baird is about 35 years old and came to the hospital from Lawrence.

Validity of Ordinance.

In order to test the validity of an ordinance passed by the Common Council, Thomas Moley has instituted suit against Mayor Thomas J. Clark and members of the Town Council in the Supreme Court. The suit is brought wholly as a test case, and the board of directors of the Indianapolis Police have submitted briefs and requests for advancement.

Hobo Breathes Through Tube.

Adolph Hecker, a hobo, was picked up last night by Detectives Manning and Simons. He was sent to the police station, and while Turnkey Mackessy was searching him he noticed a small tube sticking out of his neck. The reason for this was explained and he asked Hecker what it was for. Hecker explained that the only way he could breathe was through the tube.

ALBERT STANLEY'S CLAIM
FOR SERVICES AS FLORIST

Park Board Members Lock Horns
in the Matter—Routine Affairs.

Final disposition of the Riverside Park shelter house controversy was made yesterday by the Park Board in awarding the contract for completion of the work to August Wacker, who was given the original contract for the building's erection, but was stopped on the ground that the contract was illegal, exceeding the board's appropriation. The settlement made yesterday was agreed upon at a meeting of city officials and the contractor with his attorney several weeks ago.

Contracts for bridge repair work were awarded to Howland & Hood for Brookside Park at $1,550, and to J. D. Hoss for Spades Place and Gardiner Park.

A resolution was adopted providing for the return to the board of a monthly report by Park Superintendent Power, in order that the board may keep in closer touch with the work.

Seventy swings were ordered by the board for the smaller parks of the city.

Albert Stanley, who is under suspension by vote of the Democratic members of the board, as the result of a controversy between two Garfield Park employees, has sent his bill to the board for $100 for services as florist in the park for the months of February and March. This raises a question the settlement of which is difficult to forecast, inasmuch as the Democratic and Republican members are directly opposed on the matter.

Lauck favored the dismissal of Stanley, while Commissioner Coffin opposed it, blocking the disposition of the matter in the Democratic way.

LIBRARY DAY AT BUTLER FITTINGLY CELEBRATED

Handsome Gifts of Books and Money for the Bona Thompson Library.

FIVE-MINUTE SPEECHES

Portrait of Bona Thompson, by Steele, Is Unveiled—Reception for President.

Alumni, former students, faculty and active students of Butler College assembled in large numbers last night in the new Bona Thompson Library in celebration of library day—a new departure in college events of the institution. The occasion was the receiving of gifts from various classes and friends of the college for the Bona Thompson Library, which was dedicated by the college during the past year.

The call for the meeting was issued several weeks ago by the library committee and was met by an enthusiastic and generous response. Exercises were held in the two large library rooms, which were crowded to their full capacity. Prof. D. C. Brown, chairman of the library, was to have presided over the meeting, but owing to his illness Dr. Scott Butler presided. The exercises opened with the singing of "America," and then Prof. W. D. Howe read the list of gifts to the library. The list was a long one and included as donors every class, with one or two exceptions, which has been graduated from the college since 1886. Among the donors were many individuals—friends and students of the college—who contributed liberally to the equipment of the library. The donations were in the shape of books and money. Four hundred and seventy volumes were received and $90 in money with which other books will be bought. Among the donations was one of special value—a set of Ruskin—donated by the board of directors of the college. A set of the complete works of Ruskin, in sixteen volumes presented by Clarence Goodwin, a former student of the college, is of high value.

After the announcement of the gifts five-minute talks were made by Dr. A. R. Benton, Rev. B. M. Blount, Prof. C. B. Coleman and Hugh H. Miller, of Columbus, followed by a short talk by W. E. Garrison, the new president of the college. Mr. Garrison spoke of his love for the college and his firm belief in its worth and high standard.

The portrait of Bona Thompson, painted by Steele, was unveiled and received by the college and its friends. The portrait is life size and will be hung in the niche left for it in the rear wall of the library's main entrance. The portrait is a study with great care the lights and shadows of its position.

After the unveiling of the portrait the exercises became informal and alumni and friends of the college were given an opportunity to meet President Garrison. Light refreshments were served by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Association. The gathering was enjoyed by several selections by the college quartet.

FOUR EMPTY BOTTLES
TOLD STORY OF DRINK

Andrew Shultz, of St. Louis,
Wanted to Be Locked Up to Insure Sobriety.

Andrew Shultz, of St. Louis, who is very anxious to get back to his home and see the fair, is locked up at the police station on the charge of being drunk. The imprisonment is voluntary on the part of Shultz, as he wanted to be locked up to keep himself sober and to insure that he would not drink again. He had four empty quart whisky bottles on his person.

SPEAKERS SELECTED FOR ENDEAVORERS

The state executive board of the Christian Endeavor Union has selected the following speakers for the Christian Endeavor convention to be held at Fort Wayne June 22 to 26: Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, the evangelist; Ira Landrith, Chicago; Von Ogden Vogt, general secretary of the United Societies Christian Endeavor; Charles S. Medbury, Des Moines; Robert E. Spear, New York city; Prof. E. Wilson, Chicago, musical director. Some of the Indiana speakers will be the Rev. A. B. Hillputt, Indianapolis; the Rev. H. L. Wilson, Ellettsville; the Rev. Frank M. Fox, Terre Haute; the Rev. Dr. W. Henry, Tipton; C. J. Orin, Ellettsville; and the Rev. J. H. Clark, Ellettsville. Last night's meeting was held at the First Friends Church, the speakers being Miss Kate Haus, Mrs. Hageman and Mrs. Florence Latham. The afternoon the Junior Endeavorers will meet.

Police Called to Voting Place.

First ward workers tried hard to start a fight last night after the polls closed. The voting place was at 1465 Hillside avenue and Patrolman Johnson was stationed there to preserve order. A crowd gathered about 8 o'clock and it soon assumed alarming proportions. Johnson ordered the people to go home, but they would not move. He then telephoned to headquarters for assistance and Bicyclemen Love and Bernauer were sent out. They succeeded in dispersing the crowd without any blows being exchanged.

FINE NEW HOTEL WILL BE THROWN OPEN TO-DAY

The Linden, on North Illinois
Street, Has Many Attractive Features.

A beautiful fountain with an elaborate bronze figure in its center and the basin banked by a variegated collection of potted plants and flowers constitute one of the permanent features of The Linden, the new hotel, at 317-319 North Illinois street, whose formal opening will take place this afternoon and evening. The owners of the hotel, Dr. D. M. Rye and Dr. L. T. Leach, have left nothing undone to make The Linden as attractive and cozy a home as possible.

As one enters from Illinois street he is greeted with the fragrance of flowers and the singing of birds in the lobby before him, and as he passes through the many elegantly furnished rooms he is impressed with the handsome and comfortable everywhere apparent. This hotel will be primarily for families and there will be no bar connected with the cafe. The cafe, filled with flowers and palms, is certainly an alluring spot. It will be conducted on both the American and European plans. Every accommodation of the best equipped hotels is there, together with many side features such as a ladies restroom, several dining room gentlemen can lounge and smoke and the attractive lobby.

Above is a large assembly room to accommodate parties and to serve as a banquet hall. There are about 250 rooms in the hotel which are given out furnished or unfurnished and sixty of these are already engaged. "A clean place for clean people." This is the motto of the new hotel.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS
VERY BRIEF SESSION

Special Meeting to Ratify the Transfer of the New Telephone Franchise.

OLD SWITCH ORDINANCE

In a special meeting lasting less than fifteen minutes the City Council last night passed the ordinance ratifying a resolution of the Board of Public Works consenting to a transfer of the franchise, with all its rights and privileges, of the New Telephone Company to the Indianapolis Telephone Company.

There were but fifteen members of the Council present, but all of these voted for the measure, which was reported favorably by the committee on contracts and franchises, to which it had been referred.

The ordinance merely gives official sanction to the reincorporation and recapitalization of the New Telephone Company for the enlargement and betterment of the local service. The franchise of the New Telephone Company forbade its changing hands or disposing of the franchise without the consent of the city.

The Council also passed general ordinances of the Council committee on streets and alleys for such a long time that it had almost been forgotten. It grants the Peoria & Eastern Railroad Company the right to lay a switch at Depot and Tacoma streets, in Brightwood.

Some of the Democrats who attended last night's meeting were Councilmen Fishback, Storm and Wright. All of the Republicans were absent. The Council is still confined to his home by sickness.

WATER SLOWLY DRAINING
FROM FLOODED DISTRICT

Water that has been standing in the streets of West Indianapolis ever since the last rain, is slowly draining from the flooded district through a ten-inch main under the railroad tracks into White river. Standard avenue and Ray street still have more water than their residents want, but the water has so far receded from the plant of the Standard Water Company that it will be able to resume operation Monday. The Standard Water Company handles and manufactures Indianapolis may not be able to begin work until the middle of next week.

ELEVATOR CONDUCTOR
DEALT IN STAMPS

Robert Whitlock was placed under arrest yesterday morning by Detectives Lancaster and McGuff for stealing stamps out of office in the State Life building. He admitted his guilt. The heaviest loser in the building is the office of the United Mine Workers. Whitlock has been suspected for some time, and when searched at the police station he had a number of stamps in his possession. He has been an elevator conductor in the building for some time.

ARE NOW ON EXHIBITION

Some of His Best Work Being Shown at the Herron Art Institute.

A collection of over one hundred beautiful paintings and illustrations by Howard Pyle is now on special exhibition at the Herron Art Institute. All these are the originals from which have been taken illustrations for different magazines. In the present exhibit of Mr. Pyle's works are found his illustrations on the "Story of Dr. D. M. Rye and Dr. L. T. Leach," "Travels of the Soul" and many others. Mr. Pyle has contributed largely to the literature of the city and is an author and illustrator, but has achieved his greatest distinction in the latter capacity.

Who Owns the Saloon?

On the charge of owning a saloon on South Delaware street which is operated without a license, William Stick was brought before Commissioner Moores yesterday morning. Stick claims that he sold the saloon, and his case was continued until today. In the meanwhile the authorities will attempt to find the man to whom Stick said he sold the saloon.

A matter of more than passing interest to the public and children as well as to every person interested in the saving of small sums of money is the advertisement of one of the city's largest trust companies, running at present in the city papers. The first of a series of advertisements consists of a table showing what 3 cents per day will earn in from one to ten years. A different table will be published weekly for a number of weeks to come. These tables will be found very instructive to every person who is at all interested in saving small amounts.

LOCAL LABOR UNION MAN OSTRACISED BY FELLOWS

Grave Charges Preferred Against
Chester Kidd, of the Cabinet Makers' Union.

ACTION IS DEFERRED

At the meeting of Cabinet Makers' Union No. 189 last night final action in regard to the disposition of Chester Kidd, president of the local union and the Wood Workers' District Council, who is charged with having turned traitor to his union and unionism by giving away union secrets to the Manufacturers' Association, was suspended for the present, pending a settlement some time before next Friday night. Kidd, it is said, has acknowledged the truth of the charges placed against him and his membership card has been withdrawn. He has been suspended from the district council of the Amalgamated Wood Workers' Union, of which he was president, and is completely ostracized by local unions of the city. The action of the district council of the Amalgamated Wood Workers' Union will be decided by the action of the local union during the next week.

Kidd came to Indianapolis several months ago and became active in union circles. He has admitted giving away information concerning the labor union of the city, and the hard wood finishers, who are also taking part in the settlement of the trouble.
